FUN AT THE HORSE SHOW.

AMATEURS DRIVE AND TURN PAIRED HORSES IN A "T" INCLOSURE.

INCREASING ATTENDANCE AT THE EXHIBITION—A GOOD PROGRAMME TO-DAY—PRIZES AWARDED.

At the open air show of the United States Horse and Cattle Society on Manhattan Field, One-hundred and fifty-fifth-st. and Eighth-ave., a fine programme has been arranged for today. It is the best of the whole week, and better than has been given at any similar show. In addition to the regular entries, two races have been arranged which should result in some good sport and hot finishes. One is for polo ponies—a half mile—and the other is a trotting contest. There is a mile race for a purse of $100. The horses will be driven to bicycle stables.

The show at 2 o'clock this afternoon will open with the judging of roadsters, and then will come the competition for the hackney stallion championship, for which the great champion Fashon is entered, then will come seven high steeplechase, to be followed by the trotting stallions. In this class Quartermaster, Hiram and other cracks will appear. This will be followed by ten saddle horses and more hackneys. Seven road teams will next occupy the ring, to be followed by hunters, hounds and appointments. A good lot of jumpers will next occupy the field, and then there will be a parade of prize winners. The day's proceedings will be brought to a close by an exhibition given by the park policemen. These will show their dexterity in catching runaway and will give a good performance.

Until yesterday the attendance at the show has been such that the association has about covered its expenses, but yesterday all this was altered, for the public grand stand was crowded, and the private boxes, the clubhouse and private grand stand were also well filled. Among those present were W. C. Whitney, Miss Whitney, A. H. Sands, Colonel and Mrs. Jay, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Terry, Roosevelt, Scenyer, Dr. and Mrs. Huldecker, H. L. T. Huddle, Colonel Lawrence Rip, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Huddle, Dillon Ripley, D. Walker Smith, E. C. Moore, F. P. Underhill, John Beresford, Charles Pfizer, Jr., J. E. Widener, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper Hewitt, George Peabody Wetmore, George Green, F. M. Ware, J. Clinch Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stevens, Adrian Iselin, J. E. Townsend, Mrs. Frederic Nelson, J. Lee Taiter, E. C. Fetter, J. C. De la Vergne, David Bonner, W. G. Tiffany, Captain J. P. Adams, Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., and Charles Ransome.

Probably the most interesting feature of the day to the directors of the society was the reconciliation between Charles P. Bates and the society. Late on Tuesday night Mr. Bates had a heated argument with the judges, and was expelled from the clubhouse, and it was expected that his entries would not be allowed to stand; but his early appearance at the clubhouse yesterday morning with a profuse apology put an end to the differences. Mr. Bates's potes took several prizes.

The first contest was the jumping over 5 foot 6 inch hurdles, postponed from Tuesday. Nine horses competed, and the judges awarded the prize to Juliet. Besides the prize, ribbons were awarded, the red rosette going to Sarcenetum. Soda got the red ribbon, and Sarcenetum the white one. A pretty exhibition was the driving of fourteen tandem teams by owners, for a prize offered by the New-York Tandum Club. The teams were driven to dog carts.

The most amusing but most difficult feat of the day was the turning of teams in a "T" shaped inclosure by amateurs. The drivers first drove their own teams, but afterward took in hand the other teams entered. The prize offered by Mr. W. D.

Grand was a horse valued at $250. The competitors were E. de Laurent, R. F. Carman, R. S. Huldecker, Charles F. Bates and Reginald W. Rivers. The prize was won by Reginald W. Rivers, R. F. Carman being second, Charles F. Bates, third, and R. S. Huldecker fourth.

THE NEXT STATE SENATE

MEN WHO ARE LIKELY TO COMPOSE IT.

THE CITIES WILL BE REPRESENTED UTTERLY OUT OF PROPORTION TO THEIR POPULATION.

FROM THE REGULAR CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.

Albany, June 5.—The Legislative Apportionment act of 1892 will go into full operation only the coming fall, for while Assemblymen were elected in November, 1892, under that act, the senators had one more year to serve, and therefore, none were elected. In November next, however, both senators and Assemblymen will be elected under the apportionment act mentioned, and the people of the State will see at Albany representatives of the cities, or of counties dominated by city influences, in control of the Legislature. Up to this period in the history of the State the rural members of the Legislature have had a commanding influence in it, and it has been a favorite piece of legislative jobbery, to declare that "a harnessed Legislature" prevented the will of the people living in cities from having legislative expression. That since 1894 more has been expressed than the Legislature of 1894 members representing these counties have their business offices in New-York and are imbued with the ideas of the residents of that city. It can be predicted also with absolute certainty that the Senator who will be elected from the XIXth District will be a resident of the city of Albany, that the Senator who will be elected from the XXVIIIth District will be a resident of the city of Rochester, that both the Senators from the two Erie County Senate Districts will be residents of the city of Buffalo, and that the Senator from the XXIVth District will be a resident of the city of Syracuse. It is thus evident that at least twenty of the thirty-two Senators in the Senate of 1894 will be "city men."

The remainder of the Senate districts by the Legislature of 1892 will give the city districts a large representation in the State Senate than that to which they are entitled. Thus the counties of New-York, Kings, Suffolk, Queens, Putnam and Westchester, clustered together at the south-eastern angle of the State, and the County of Erie, on the western edge of the State, will have seventeen votes in the State Senate, or a majority of its thirty-two members, and sufficient to pass any law they please. Yet these counties in 1892 only cast the following vote:

Erie 68,493 Suffolk 11,793 Kings 176,283 Westchester 31,129 New-York 284,084 Putnam 20,990

There were 1,230,793 votes cast in the State in 1892. Deducting the 606,783 votes cast in the counties named above from those cast in the other counties of the State, there remain 730,010 votes. It is obvious, therefore, that there is the following disparity in the number of votes cast in the various Senate Districts:

Cast in 15 Senate districts 730,010 Cast in 17 Senate districts 606,783 Excess in votes in 15 districts 123,227

It thus appears that the voters in seventeen Senate Districts, although casting 123,227 less votes than the voters in the other fifteen districts, will control the State Senate and legislation in it.

A minority of voters controlled the last Assembly. They lived in the counties of Kings, New-York, Erie, Albany, Queens, Westchester and Richmond, and they have the following number of Assemblymen and cast the following vote in 1892:

Number of Vol-Assemblymen, Cast Albany 4 31,761 Erie 4 170,783 Kings 4 284,084 New-York 8 22,091 Queens 3 11,741 Richmond 3 11,120 Westchester 3 612,480

The following table then can be constructed:

Votes cast in 15 Assembly Districts 606,783 Votes cast in 17 Assembly Districts 612,480 Excess of votes in 15 districts 51,693

A minority of voters control, therefore, the action of both the Senate and the Assembly; and it is clear that if the cities shall manage legislation at Albany, they will do so by a reapportionment of the Legislative districts in flagrant disregard of the requirement of the Constitution that there shall be equal representation in the Legislature.

The Democratic party, being in control of the cities, purposes to send to the Legislature a still larger number of the type who brought disgrace upon the State at the late session of the Legislature. It is said that Edward Floyd-Jones, Democrat, will not be returned from the 1st Senate District, but that the nomination will be given to Assemblyman Townsend, of Queens County. Kings County now has three Senators; in the next Senate she will have five. Four of the districts were carved out by a Democratic and one was granted to the Republicans. Senators McCarron and McCarty, Democrats, have all their arrangements made for a re-nomination in districts wherein they can be confident of a re-election. In the district granted to the Republicans, there are already two Republican candidates seeking the nomination, namely: Senator Asplund and ex-Senator James W. Hirkett. A fourth Brooklyn Senator District has a Democratic majority, but only a small one, and the Republicans will make a strong effort to gain it. The fifth Brooklyn Senate District is safely Democratic. In this district James F. Quizey, the Democratic leader in the Assembly the present year, will seek a re-nomination.

Senator William L. Brown and Senator George F. Roese, of New-York, it is said, do not care for a re-nomination; and Senator Martin T. McMahon, of New-York, is said to seek in each ill-favor with the leaders of Tammany Hall that they do not intend to re-nominate him. In Senator Brown's place, it is said, Tammany Hall intends to put ex-Senator Michael C. Murphy, who once represented part of the new Senate District, the VIIIth. Senator Ahearn, it is said, is likely to be re-nominated by Tammany Hall in the XXth District. Assemblyman O'Sullivan, of New-York, is also seeking one of the Tammany Hall nominations for Senator. The leaders of Tammany Hall, it is said, have agreed to the return of Senators Cantor, Cunningham and Plunkitt. It is further said to be the design of the Tammany Hall leaders to defeat Senator Charles F. McClelland, of Westchester County, if he should seek a re-nomination in the new XVIIIth District, which has within its territory the Twenty-fourth Ward of New-York, and the counties of Putnam and Westchester. Indeed, the Tammany Hall leaders intend, if possible, to elect nine Senators. They now send seven Senators to Albany.

The new XVIIIth Senate District, composed of the counties of Orange, Rockland and Dutchess, ex. 183 Republican plurality in 1892. Senator William M. Richardson, Republican, lives in this district and desires the nomination, and in view of the closeness of the vote in the district and his popularity in Orange County, it is likely to be granted him.

In the XVIIIth District the Democratic machine intends to defeat Senator Woodbury and is seeking the nomination of a new politician who is a Cleveland attitude last winter. The XVIIIth Senate District, which has within its limits the counties of Rensselaer and Columbia, was cut out for the use of United States Senator Murphy, for him to send some lieutenant of his to the Senate. But although the district gave a Democratic majority in 1892, it promises to be a close one, and the Republicans will not surrender it without a struggle. Mr. Murphy, it is said, has already selected his candidate for Senator in the person of Assemblyman William M. Keenan, of Rensselaer, who served his first term in the Assembly the present year.

In the XIXth Senate District, which consists of Albany County alone, the Democrats will probably re-nominate Senator Parker. The XXth may be considered a "Victory Valley" district, for the Mohawk River passes through the counties of Herkimer, Montgomery County and Saratoga, the other county in the district. This district is surely Republican, and several Republicans are already mentioned as candidates. Senator Donaldson lives in Saratoga County and desires a nomination in the new district. The Montgomery County Republicans are suggesting the nomination of ex-Assemblyman W. Barlow Dunlap or ex-Assemblyman John Warner. In Schoenectady County some of the friends of ex-Judge Austin A. Yates are suggesting him for the nomination. The Herkimer County Republicans have expressed surprise during the last week that the Republicans in the other counties should be thinking so soon of the Senate nominations, but say that they have a candidate in the person of ex-Senator Titus Shurt.

The next district, the XXist, is a large one in the northeastern part of the State, and takes in the counties of Essex, Clinton, Franklin, Washington, Warren, Fulton and Hamilton. It is such a big district that there promises to be a huge scramble for the nomination. Two Republican Senators, Dorcy and Emerson, have been thrown into this new district. It is said that Yates will seek a nomination in it. There is a third candidate, however, already at work—Frederick D. Kilburn, of Malone, Franklin County.

Sensors Erwin and Mullin both live in the new XXIIth District, composed of St. Lawrence, Jefferson and Oswego, where there is a normal Republican plurality of 10,000 votes. It is believed that both men are seeking a re-nomination. It is said that just before the adjournment of the Legislature Senator Erwin was asked if he would be a candidate against Senator Mullin. "No, I guess not," said he, looking slyly at Mullin. "Joe and I are too good friends to quarrel over such a little thing."

In the centre of the State is an "hour-glass district," composed of the counties of Otsego, Oneida and Lewis. Its number is the XXIIIth. Senator Coggeshall lives in Oneida, and it is surmised would like a nomination in the new district.

There are no candidates yet named in the XXVth and XXVIth districts. In the XXVth District, consisting of the counties of Cayuga, Wayne, Tompkins, Ontario and Yates, last week new Democratic candidates were named. It is said that just before the adjournment of the Legislature Senator Erwin was asked if he would be a candidate against Senator Mullin. "No, I guess not," said he, looking slyly at Mullin. "Joe and I are too good friends to quarrel over such a little thing."

Senator Charles T. Saxton not only occupies a commanding position in the Empire State today, but also has an enviable national reputation. He is mentioned everywhere as one of the most thoughtful, eloquent and conscientious statesmen in our great Commonwealth. The new Senatorial district will honor itself, will place the greater mass of its constituents, by continuing in office such a statesman—not a new politician—who is animated by a love of liberty, controlled by a high sense of public duty, and who is above even the insinuation of political intrigue and mercenary motives.

The new XXVIIth District is composed of the counties of Chemung, Schuyler, Seneca and Steuben. There is a general desire in the district that J. Stoddard Fassett should return to his old place in the Senate. It would be a great piece of good fortune to the State if Mr. Fassett should return to the Senate from this district.

It is said that Senator Parsons, Republican, will be re-nominated without opposition in the new XXVIIIth District—consisting of Monroe County. In the XXIXth District, made up of Niagara, Orleans, Livingston, Wyoming and Genesee counties, no candidates are yet mentioned.

Sensors Erwin, Democrat, will be re-nominated in the XXXth District, which is composed of the counties of Buffalo, but he will have a Home Rule Democrat as an opponent, and also a Republican. There is a Republican majority in the XXXist District, which is composed of the towns of Erie County and some wards of Buffalo. It is a strong Republican district. Among the men named already are Harvey J. Hurd, of Elm, and Henry A. Parsons, of East Aurora.

The XXXIst District is composed of the counties of Chautauque, Cattaraugus and Allegany. The men already mentioned in connection with the nomination are Assemblyman Woolbary and ex-Assemblyman Nixon, of Chautauque County, and Assemblyman Wheeler, of Cattaraugus County. Allegany County, also, will probably have a candidate.
